Since it's introduction, this weapon has become the police's worst nightmare. It's reached almost epic popularity among gangs due to its "relative" low price and extremely high caliber. This weapon has given even the cheapest thugs a way to fight back against the most heavily armored police. Its 3-round burst capability makes it even more lethal. Of course you get what you pay for, this weapon has a tendency to blow up (every fumble rolled using this weapon has a 50% chance of causing it to explode in your hands). This tendency increases when on 3-round burst (anytime the weapon fumbles, it explodes). The high lethality of this gun, both to enemy and user, have not stopped it from being imported.
